Out and about

Мы идём в лес.

We are going into the forest.

Здесь красивая приро́да.

The scenery here is beautiful.

Мы собира́ем грибы́.

We are picking mushrooms.

Пойдём на приро́ду.

Let's go out into the countryside.

берё́за is not just a tree

The birch is a national symbol, and turns up constantly in Russian poetry, songs and painting. Similarly, собирать грибы́ — mushroom picking — is a genuine national pastime rather than a quirk, so it appears in stories far more often than an English speaker would expect.
